DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-62 and 80-110, drawn to fuel cartridge connectable to fuel cells, classified in class 220/586 or 215/3 or 429/34.
 - II. Claims 63-79, drawn to relief valves, classified in class 251, subclass 366.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
3. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the invention of Group I does not require the specific relief valves for transporting or venting fluid therefrom, for instance, the combination of Group I (i.e. the fuel cartridge) (as disclosed in the Background of the Invention) can use a refillable balloon or agents/additives for neutralizing fuel or any other pressure adjusting mechanism for maintaining a constant pressure. The subcombination has separate utility such as providing suitable fluid communication or transport.
4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Further to the above requirement, election of species is also necessary. Thus, applicant must elect one (1) of the above groups and one (1) of the species below.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species 2: the embodiment of Figure 4;

Species 3: the embodiment of Figure 7;

Species 4: the embodiment of Figure 8;

Species 5: the embodiment of Figure 9;

Species 6: the embodiment of Figure 10;

Species 7: the embodiment of Figure 12A-B;

Species 6: the embodiment of Figure 13;

Note: Additionally, if applicant believes this election of species does not appropriately separate or restrict the claimed subject matter, applicant is kindly and voluntarily requested to provide a reasonable identification of specific patentably distinct species of the claimed invention for examination purposes. It is advised that if applicant voluntarily decides to provide such identification of species (groups and claims), such species groups or claims (as identified by the applicant) will be carefully reviewed by the examiner so as to determine if they all represent a proper and fair identification and grouping of species and their associated listing of all claims readable thereon.*

The species are independent or distinct because they are directed to mutually exclusive embodiments not overlapping in scope.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim appears to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
